

Delivering Good Fortune (Artwork Included)

June 13, 2013 | By a practitioner in Hebei Province, China

(Minghui.org) In January 2013, a speeding car ran into me while I was riding home on my bicycle. I hit the ground hard and had to repeatedly swallow the blood that had accumulated in my throat.

The driver was very frightened when he saw me lying on the road. After I had regained my strength, I told him not to worry and that I didn't blame him for running into me. I also clarified the truth to him about Falun Dafa. He was very grateful and left.

I struggled to get home and once I lay down, I was unable to get up. When I looked within, I found out where I had fallen short. My fellow practitioners came to my home to send righteous thoughts and encourage me. I started to do the exercises and in about a month I felt much better. My family was truly amazed by Dafa's power.
