When Bobby Kennedy talked about writing this book a couple of years ago, I asked him why. Mindful of how the truth about everything COVID-19 (and much else) was being memory-holed, he said he wanted to create an accurate historical record of what happened, for the future.

I thought that was a good answer. We desperately need a clear, accurate understanding about many things that have been taking place over the past few years, or should I say decades, and we all need to be saving hard copies or pdfs on hard drives of the important bits of history that we dig up.

Mr. Kennedy did the difficult part and collected those scraps, and he knitted them together into a narrative that very few people know about. In a nutshell: There is a cabal that took the concept of biological warfare 30 years ago and ran with it—in order to create new industries and massive profits and to control the world using fear of death by contagion. He created a history that is also a page-turner, enabling us to understand in a much deeper way what we have just lived through.

No kidding, he has the receipts. Dr. Anthony Fauci is only one pawn on the chessboard in this book. There are many others, and I will mention just a few. Robert Kadlec is one. Sir Jeremy Farrar is a real knight, despite or because of having played a pivotal role in the overdosing of more than 2,500 patients with hydroxychloroquine in the UK/Oxford and WHO clinical trials that he oversaw and funded.

There are the funders; the scientists who will do anything for another grant; the massive network controlled by a syndicate: the money men and women from the National Institutes of Health's many institutes, especially its best-funded National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases; the National Science Foundation, whose former director was on the board of EcoHealth Alliance; the Wellcome Trust; the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation; the Rockefeller Foundation; and other charities deeply entangled with the ones I just mentioned. There are think tanks that help guide the direction the funding takes. A U.S. Department of Defense (DOD) that contributes billions of dollars to whitewash and hide its biowarfare research. And a massive bureaucracy and media that protects all these people from exposure and punishment.

Nobody really wants to think about bioweapons. They are unpleasant in the extreme to contemplate. They should not exist. They challenge our entire concept of medicine being sacrosanct, the knowledge of medicine never to be used for harm. This is in the Hippocratic Oath.

Unfortunately, we cannot bury our heads in the sand over this issue. Our lack of knowledge about it, our revulsion toward it, and our deep-seated fears about it have enabled the specter of biological warfare to lead us on a long and winding road to hell.

The 2001 anthrax letters, sent at the right time to the right senators, led to the Patriot Act, a massively profitable biodefense industry, and the rise of the surveillance state.

By 2005, we had the PREP Act, ostensibly to allow the DOD to continue using anthrax vaccines despite the revocation of the vaccine license in 2004. Did anyone know back then that the PREP Act would be used to greenlight contaminated gene therapy injections for billions around the world? Why didn't the scientists designing these injections predict some, if not all, of their harms, having spent hundreds of millions of dollars to study beta coronaviruses over two decades? Or did they?

Without the PREP Act removing liability from the COVID-19 vaccine manufacturers, the injectors, and the government planners who both designed the program and gave away billions of taxpayer dollars in bonuses for each shot administered, such untested, unlicensed, and deadly shots would never have been administered.

The Patriot and PREP Acts were passed because Congress and the American public were played like a fiddle, induced to be terrified. Congress attempted to immunize itself from criticism by throwing money at the problem, much of it going to Dr. Fauci, while, through ignorance, Congress made the problem of biological warfare far worse.

Many Americans took the COVID-19 experimental shots willingly, out of terror and ignorance. The half that held back were mostly beaten, shamed, or cajoled into compliance through the most incredible, federally funded fifth general mind control assault the world has ever experienced.

We have just lived through three bioweapon events, at least: the original Wuhan coronavirus, the Omicron variant, and monkeypox, all of which assuredly came from labs.

It is obvious that many more nasty viruses and other microorganisms are still sitting in labs, many sponsored by military and intelligence agencies using our tax dollars. It is absolutely critical that the public act a lot smarter than it did last time, if there is a next time. It is critical to know what it is we are dealing with. And critical to understand that there are ways we can save ourselves that lie outside the government's prescribed Overton window.

“The Wuhan Cover-Up” gives you the facts, the history, and the understanding you need to grasp what is actually happening right now. If enough of us read it, we will gain the knowledge and strength in numbers to stop and defund the biowarfare industry, revoke these terrible laws, and lay down our deep, unconscious fears regarding contagion.

[Full disclosure: I helped edit this book. I was the first person in the world to study an epidemic (epizootic) and prove it was due to biological warfare.]
